Black Women for Wellness Presents
POWER SHIFT 2012
March 7-9, 2012

In celebration of International Women's Day and Women's History Month, Black Women for Wellness invites you to a powerful 3-day conference dedicated to addressing the reproductive justice and health issues impacting Black and African-American women and girls domestically and around the world.

The POWER SHIFT conference is an opportunity for you to be a part of a moment of informed citizens and advocates who are mobilizing to ensure that all women and girls have the basic human right and access to affordable, appropriate and accessible health services.

Please join our movement by registering for the conference today! Your registration covers breakfast and lunch during the conference (March 8-9, 2012), as well as entry into the Opening Night Celebration on March 7, 2012.

For additional details about the conference, please visit the Black Women for Wellness website at www.bwwla.org/powershift2012 or call 323.290.5955
